

The Sewage Question in California: Report of the State Engineer, Wm; Ham; Hall, to the Board of Directors of the Stockton Insane Asylum on the ... Institution in Their Charge (Classic Reprint)

Excerpt from The Sewage Question in California: Report of the State Engineer, Wm; Ham; Hall, to the Board of Directors of the Stockton Insane Asylum on the Sewerage for the Institution in Their Charge. Gentlemen: The question of sewerage for your institution naturally divides itself into two parts: The First - What shall be done with the sewage matter? The Second - By means of what works and appliances shall it be disposed of? The ultimate determination of each of these questions involves a consideration of the other, but the study must commence with the first mentioned. This report is divided into five parts; the first four being devoted to the first question above mentioned, and the last one to the second question, as follows: Part I - The Pollution of Rivers and Estuaries. Part 2 - The Application of Sewage to Land. Part 3 - The Artificial Treatment of Sewage. Part 4 - The Disposal of the Asylum Sewage. Part 5 - The Sewage Works Proposed at the Asylum. In submitting this paper I do not apologise for requiring so much of your time as it will take to read a long report, because I am impressed with the magnitude of the subject, and with a sense of the fact that we are about to take a step which will be looked to as having been a precedent, when in the future this sewage disposal question shall have attracted as much attention here as it has in older countries; and I feel that it is our duty as officers of the State to leave behind a record of the fact that we have looked deeper than the surface of the matter, and tried, at least, to start aright.
